Family Carried Screaming From White House.

WANTED TO SEE PRESIDENT

Refused, She Defied Anyone to Touch a Hem of Her Garments.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 4.—A distressing scene was enacted at the White House executive offices to-day, in which Mrs. Minor Morris, aged fifty years, was carried screaming from the building because she refused to leave it without resort to force.

Mrs. Morris told Assistant Secretary Barnes that she wanted to see the President. She said that her husband had been discharged from the government service, and she wanted to demand from the President his reinstatement. Mr. Barnes explained to her that the President had nothing to do with such sub-test, and that she would better take up the matter with the head of the department from which her husband had been discharged.

Mrs. Morris declared in a loud tone that she had come to the White House to see the President, and proposed to see him, even if she had to camp out there for a month.

The White House officers tried to get her to leave, but she defled anyone to touch her. Two of them Hited her up bodily and carried her screaming to a police call box, where a patrol wagon was summoned. She was taken to the House of Detention, Mrs. Morris is the wife of Dr. Minor Morris, of this city, and is a younger sister of Representative Hull, of Iowa, chairman of the House of Dr. Minor Morris, of this city, and is a younger sister of Representative Hull, of Iowa, chairman of the House Cammittee on Military Affairs. No charge has been made against her.

BLAMES MOTHERS FOR DEATHS BY MEASLES

ents After Disease is Checked Often Kills Children. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, January 4.—That mothers themselves are directly responsible for deaths of children by measles is the opinion volced by Dr. William H. Guilfoy, Registrar of the Board of Health, who has made a special study of the disease. Dr. Guilfoy says that measles necessarily is not a fatal disease, but that the carelessness with which mothers regard it oftentimes results in the deaths of children.

When the disease is disappearing, according to the doctor, mothers are in the habit of allowing their children to go out in the rain and cold and play for hours at a time.

The systems of the little ones, weakened by the slight fever incidental to the disease, fall to withstand the rigors to which they are subjected, and a reaction, ending in death, is usually the result.

the publication of compromising letters, the publication of compromising letters, said to have been written by the cardinal, if he did not send 1,000 the ($200), addressed to the initials "C. E.," to be left at the postoffice until called for.

The cardinal handed the letter to the police, who this morning arrested a well-lressed man, who asked for a letter with he initials "C. E." the initials "C. E."

The prisoner, whose name is kept secret, and who protests his innocence, proved that when the blackmailing letter was posted in Rome he was in Genou, where he landed on reaching Italy from New York.

INTERPRETATION OF DENIAL

In No Way Does It Foreshadow His Action Upon Application for Clemency.

His Wife Flees in Terror in Fear

of Her Own

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., January 4.—
Mr. John Atwell, at one time a wellto-do citizen of Mooresville, cut his throat with a razor at his home in that town early this morning, and died thus afternoon. Mr. Atwell, who was about fifty years old, had shown evidence of despondency for a week or more. He arose early this morning, and Mrs. Atwell saw him standing in front of a bureau looking at himself in the mirror. His actions caused her to question him as to Doctor Says Carelessness of Paractions caused her to question him as to what he meant. Like a mad man the husband rushed toward his wife with a drawn razor. She ran out of the room, and, turning around to the looking-glass. At well drew the razor across his throat, inflicting a gaish. In a few minutes he fell prostrate upon the floor.

Won Insurance Case.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTE, N. C., Januarya,—Captian A. G. Brenizer and Mr. H. Baruch, of this city, have won their suit of long standing against the Mutual Reserve Life Association of New York. The association had changed classifications, requiring some of the old members of the organization to pay large premiums, with interests, the totals being $3,196,03 and $1,709.17, respectively. A decision was rendered in their favor at the civil term of the Mecklenburg Superior Court October 7, 1901.

The association fought the case in the New York Superior Court and the United States Supreme Court, but the decisions were adverse in both cases. After the decision in the highest judicial body, the association allowed the case to go by default.
